LEADERS APPEAL FOR COMMISSION TO STUDY AND REPORT ON SITUATION.

By the Associated Press

LONDON, Feb. 24.—Thirty-six prominent members of scientific and medical faculties of German universities and twenty-two mayors of leading cities of that country have addressed a joint appeal to President Wilson and university faculties in neutral countries urging the appointment of a commission from the Scandinavian countries to study the food situation in Germany. In addition to other claims the memorial says the number neanasthes caused by monotonous daily fare during the past four years runs into millions.

MRS. FRANK P. BROWN

Mrs. Frank P. Brown of Cincinnati is winner of National Capital Prize No. 1, offered to war gardeners by the national war garden commission. She took first prizes amounting in all to $100, which she invested in War Savings stamps. On a plot 100 by 150 feet she raised enough vegetables for her table all summer, in addition to 128 cans of vegetables she put up, and 28 bushels of potatoes.

TAKING STEPS TO SPEED UP PEACE CONFERENCE

Paris, Feb. 24.—The supreme council at its session today reviewed the methods of work employed by the commissions which have been entrusted with investigating the different territorial, economic, financial and judicial problems, in order to decide on the proper steps which should be taken to accelerate as much as possible the work of the peace conference.

WILL RESUME PAYMENT OF SOLDIERS' ALLOTMENTS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The Senate passed the House bill directing the War Risk Insurance Bureau to resume payment of allotments to enlisted men of the army and navy which it discontinued last July. Because of minor Senate amendments, the bill was sent to conference. The cases of more than 20,000 men in the reserve are affected by the measure.

French "Immortals."

The French academy is the oldest of five academies constituting the Institute of France, having been founded in 1635. It is composed of 40 members, elected for life and known as the "Forty Immortals." They rank as the leading Frenchmen of their time in literature. Their judgment and decisions in all disputed literary matters are final.

How Phrase Originated.

The English-speaking people frequently, when they see somebody doing something they like, exclaim: "That's the ticket," meaning that it is the proper method of procedure. The real saying is, "That is the etiquette," or the right and proper way of doing

ARRIVED SUNDAY NIGHT. WILL DELIVER ADDRESS THIS AFTERNOON.

By the Associated Press

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—President Wilson was the guest of the city of Boston and thousands of new Englanders who came on early trains today and lined the streets through which it was arranged that the president would go from the Commonwealth pier to the back bay district. The steamer George Washington dropped anchor off quarantine last night and the presidential party remained on board over night to be brought to the Commonwealth pier today by the coast guard cutter Ossipee. The George Washington will then leave for New York to discharge the 2,000 troops she carries. The meeting at Mechanics hall where the president will deliver the only address of the day was set for 2:30 o'clock.

President and Mrs. Wilson landed from the George Washington at 11:12 a. m. The party was greeted by an immense gathering of legislators and officials, and great throngs lined the pier.

COMMISSION WILL INCLUDE ONLY GENERAL PRINCIPLE IN REPORT.

By the Associated Press

PARIS, Feb. 24.—Present indications are that nothing regarding the responsibility for the war beyond the declaration of a general principle will be included in the preliminary peace treaty. The special commission considering the liability of either governments or individuals has heard many arguments but it is stated that only an expression of general principles will be ready in time for the treaty.

NAVY QUITTING WAR STATIONS

FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT, ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF THE NAVY, GIVES FACTS.

By the Associated Press

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—Practical demobilization of all the United States naval establishment in European waters; sale of the great Lafayette wireless station at Bordeaux to the French government at approximately $4,000,000 and other hitherto unpublished facts were announced today by Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt, who arrived on the steamer George Washington. Roosevelt disclosed the fact that it cost the United States $30,000,000 to lay a mine barrage in the North Sea and that the navy had fifty-four shore bases in European waters and the Azores, the majority being bases from which 200 American seaplanes operated. Almost 50,000 officers and men have been sent home and most all bases have been evacuated.

OLY PRODUCTS AND ROYALTY OWNERS MUST PAY TAX

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 24.—F. C. Carter, state auditor, is preparing to make a drive on all delinquent individuals and companies who have neglected to file their gross production tax reports, and who have failed to pay the three percent gross production tax.

"The gross production tax department of my office has approximately five thousand live accounts with the oil producers and royalty owners of the state," says Mr. Carter. "A careful inspection of the records of the department reveals the fact that there are more than five hundred accounts which are delinquent. Some of these accounts are delinquent for a year or more, and tax warrants will be issued to the sheriff of the county in which the production is located if the tax and penalty are not paid within thirty days.

"Many royalty owners are ignorant of the law and are not aware that this tax must be paid. Others have willfully neglected to make their quarterly reports and pay the amount of tax due."

Every person, firm or corporation who owns an interest in oil or gas production in this state must make a report and pay taxes on actual cash value of such interest. Reports must be filed and taxes paid every quarter.

Under a recent decision of the supreme court of the United States, however, reports are not required and no tax need be paid on oil or gas produced from Osage or restricted Indian land. Restricted Indian land is land that is under the supervision of the Department of the Interior.

It is estimated that $100,000 in gross production taxes are delinquent and unpaid. Delinquent accounts bear interest at the rate of 18% per annum on the amount of tax due until the account is paid.

FIRST ROLL CALL HARRISON MISSED

"That's the first roll call I ever missed except on account of sickness" said Senator Luther Harrison of Ada in commenting on the defeat of the graduated land tax resolution. Harrison spoke in favor of the measure and his vote would have created a tie and defeated the motion by Senator W. R. Wallace of Pauls Valley, to indefinitely postpone. Senator Harrison was called to Norman and, believing the resolution had no chance to avoid indefinite postponement left the chamber just before roll call. A messenger failed to reach him in time to bring him back to the chamber.—Ardmore.

ADA
TOWN

No matter what the terms of the final peace treaty are no one will be altogether satisfied. It is not in the bounds of human nature for such a desirable state of affairs to exist. However, world democracy will have made a long stride forward and the oppressed nationalities given an opportunity to prove what they can do in the way of self government. Above all the Huns will be taught that their place is not in the sun, as taught by Wilhelm, but only small part of the earth's surface which will be left them when they have met the terms that will be exacted.

Former President Taft threw a whole pile of hand grenades into the ranks of the politicians who are trying to defeat the formation of the League of Nations. Taft is recognized as an authority on constitutional law and he places his stamp of disapproval on the efforts to block the league on the plea of being contrary to the constitution. Taft has knocked down the play houses of the politicians, especially those of his own party who are seeking to make political capital out of the situation. Naturally they are rubbing the sore spots and making the air blue with threats of what they will do for him when the opportunity presents itself. Taft is a big man and in the war has risen above petty partisan politics and supported the administration most loyally. Having filled the presidential chair four years, he is in a position to know something about the difficulties which confront the chief executive of the nation.

In the biographical sketches of the members of the state senate one finds the senators registering under all kinds of occupations, but Luther Harrison is the only one to sign himself as a politician. The others did not have the nerve to come out and acknowledge the corn.

Fruits Stand First.

Fruits have the honor of being most widely diffused geographically, grown with the kindest care, and of being first used by man as food. They still enter largely into the regimen of the cultivated nations, and are the fairest of civilizations. The use of them is of such universal importance that we can not subsist in any plenty or elegance without them. And everywhere beside the cultivated man grows the orchard, to intimate his refinement in these excellencies most befitting his race.—A. Bronson Alcott.

Wasted Patience.

He was a green Scottish lad, and one of his duties was to answer the telephone. When first called on to do so, in reply to the usual query: "Are you there?" he nodded assent. Again the question came and again and yet again, and each time the boy gave the answering nod. When the question came for the fifth time, however, the boy, losing his temper, roared through the transmitter: "Man, are ye blind? I've been noddin' ma head off for the last half hour!"—Boston Transcript.

Cubeb.

Cubeb berries are from the climbing plant called Piper Cubeba, native of the West Indies, being extensively cultivated in Java and Sumatra. It is used as local stimulant in indigestion and as a flavoring vehicle in mixtures and gargles. It is valuable particularly in diseases of the mucous membrane, especially of the bronchi. Frequently smoked in cigarettes for their effect on the mucous membrane of the bronchi and larynx.

A Man and the World.

The world owes you nothing, unless by your own achievements you have made it your debtor. The man who imagines that the world owes him a living has taken the first step toward knavery; the second step is taken when he tries to collect the debt which is not due him. The greater his success in this, the greater thief he is, if he takes out of the world more than he has put into it.—Lyman Abbott.

Modified Form of Slavery.

There is no legal and formal slavery in any Christian country. It survives in a mild form in most Mohammedan countries. The peonage system of Latin-American countries is not much different from slavery, but rests upon a different theory. The peon is not supposed to be owned as property; he is supposed to be working to pay a debt which he owes the master.

Natural Lightning Conductor.

The astronomical observatory at Mount Etna does not need at any time the protection of a lightning rod. The observatory is near the summit of the volcano, and the stream of vapor constantly rising from the crater acts as a natural conductor, draining the electricity out of the clouds, so that the lightning is seldom seen there.

STARTING TOMORROW

By VICTOR ROUSSEAU

This is a story of two American wars. It begins with the assault of the American forces upon the Spanish defenders of Santiago in the days of '98 and the scenes of the closing chapters are laid upon the steel-swept fields of France where the soldiers of the great republic of the western world are battling the foes of humanity and civilization.

Intrigue, mystery, chivalry, love, feats of bravery on the field of honor—all these elements are interwoven in a story that mystifies and grips and thrills.

This first up-to-the-minute novel of the new America—the America upon whose arms rests the fate of the world—will appear as a serial in this paper, beginning in an early issue.

IRISH LEADERS MAKE APPEAL FOR COUNTRY

Dublin, Jan. 20.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Captain Stephen L. Gwynn, former Nationalist member of parliament, now chairman of the executive committee of the Irish Center Party, and several Irish Nationalist officers who served in the war, have sent an appeal to Premier Lloyd George to submit the Irish question to the Peace Conference.

Captain Gwynn was active in the voluntary recruiting movement in Ireland in the latter part of the war when it was feared that conscription would be imposed upon Ireland.

In a letter to the Premier, Captain Gwynn and his associates say that the problem of Ireland could not be better described than in the words of President Poincaré in outlining the task of the Peace Conference as being "to remake the map of the world and respect the rights of nations, small and great, to dispose of themselves."

By these terms, asserts Captain Gwynn and his fellow officers, "the Peace Conference is indicated as the bar before which Ireland's claim should be heard and judged. Venturing to affirm that we speak not for ourselves alone," continues the letter, "but for the tens of thousands of Irish Nationalists who went out with the same purpose that inspired us—and of whom many thousands can never speak again—we submit to you respectfully that the Irish question should go to the arbitration of the Peace Conference.

"The Irish difficulty lies partly in Ireland, between a majority and a minority; but it lies also between Ireland and England. You who have accepted the principle of internationally determined equities between nation and nation cannot in honor and in justice claim that as between England and Ireland, England should be the sole judge.

"Not only in the interest of our own country, but in the interest of the world's peace, which must always be in jeopardy while a nation small or great lives under a deep-seated sense of ancient and rankling injustice, we ask you with the utmost earnestness to submit our case and yours, our national difficulty and your imperial difficulty, to the great assize of nations."

Not only in the interest of our own country, but in the interest of the world's peace, which must always be in jeopardy while a nation small or great lives under a deep-seated sense of ancient and rankling injustice, we ask you with the utmost earnestness to submit our case and yours, our national difficulty and your imperial difficulty, to the great assize of nations."

High Record for Exports.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Exports of merchandise from the United States last month were $623,000,000, a new high record for any month, and $119,000,000 more than in January, 1918. Only twice before have a month's exports exceeded $600,000,000.

Imports last month were $213,000,000; $21,000,000 less than a year ago.

Excess of exports over imports was $410 million dollars, a new high record for one month.

RECLUSE CANNOT LOSE HIS MONEY

Chicago Man Made Unsuccessful Attempts to Give Millions Away.

SOUGHT TO BE PAUPERED

Aged Eccentric Is Again Millionaire, Although He Transferred Money to Attorney—Victim of Many Fleecings.

Chicago.—Edward W. Morrison, aged recluse of Chicago, has been trying to get rid of his millions for many years, but, despite the assistance of his lawyers and cronies, he is unable to become a pauper. The millionaire nearly succeeded a few years ago, when he transferred all his property, variously estimated at $3,000,000 to $6,000,000, to his attorney, but the transfer was recently set aside by a federal court.

In addition to his dealings with his attorney, Edward Morrison gained notoriety some years ago when he was accused by Joseph Burnstein, a Chicago junk dealer, of being the father of the two Burnstein girls he had adopted. The charge never was proved.

Spent $94,000 to Get $25,000.

In the investigation conducted by Federal Judge Landis it was shown that the eccentric millionaire had paid $94,000 to a man named Douglas to go abroad and to search for $25,000 worth of bonds supposedly stolen from his safe. Another man is said to have collected thousands of dollars for providing the aged millionaire with questionable entertainment.

"My father was rich," he declared when questioned about a real estate transfer. "He left me $3,000,000 when he died. I doubted that in speculation

Influenza! La Grippe!

Come without warning—travel in epidemics—dangerous and treacherous if neglected.

La grippe frequently affects the lungs and develops a persistent wearing cough, which neglected, is foreboding alike to old and young.

Foley's Honey and Tar spreads warmth and comfort, soothing the inflamed rasping surfaces, easing tightness of the chest, loosening the cough, helping to raise and discharge phlegm without exhausting effort. It is also good for tickling throat, hoarseness, bronchial coughs, night coughs and chronic coughs of elderly people.

"After having an attack of la grippe, it left me with a weight and got so thin that it looked as though I would never get well. I tried Foley's Honey and Tar and two bottles cured me. I am now well and back to my normal weight." F. G. Prevo, Bedford, Indiana.

AMERICAN NEWSPAPER PUBLISHED IN GERMANY

By the Associated Press
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 24.—What is said to be the only American newspaper published in Germany—The Flare—is edited by a Kansas City "Yank" at Layen, one of the German towns held by the army of occupation.

Corporal Herbert M. Davidson, the editor, conceived the idea of establishing a newspaper to help relieve the tedium of life in the army where all fighting is now a matter of history. The newspaper undertakes to give all the news of the town, the military organizations there and at Coblenz, an up-to-date summary of German political conditions and "telegraph news from all the world."

The paper is growing in size and in circulation and sparkles with snappy features. It now is a five-column, four page journal.

One of the difficulties Editor Davidson has to surmount is to get out his sheet with the assistance of a German compositor innocent of English and a set of type which frequently has to be augmented by German script.

THE SETTLEMENT

By JOSEPHINE MURPHY.

(Copyright, McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

In her youth Janet H—— had known many luxuries. Her father had been a wealthy merchant. Many wooers had sought her hand, but only one had made a favorable impression on the girl's mind. His name was Ralph B——, and he earned his bread as a reporter on the staff of a daily newspaper.

On such a person Mr. H—— was not disposed to bestow his daughter. His success in business had turned his head and he looked forward to Janet marrying one of higher social standing.

Ralph met with only cold glances from Mr. and Mrs. H—— when he encountered them. Gradually his visits ceased, and before the collapse of Mr. H——'s business the young man had gone, no one knew where or whither; few cared.

Neither Mr. H—— or his wife long survived their change in fortune. The former had invested all the money he could raise in a new, and as it turned out, bogus company. Thus Janet was entirely unprovided for.

She entered the Mayton hospital, from which she later graduated as a private nurse.

Her first case was with Norman W——, an old man of very comfortable means. Here she remained as his nurse and faithful servant until death called him.

His entire property was bequeathed to her at his death. The antiques and curious old statuary of the mansion held a strange charm for her.

About a week after Mr. W——'s death she was sitting in the library reading when the sound of an auto brushing the curb came to her ears. Laying aside the book, she arose from her chair and started to walk toward the window, but was interrupted by a knock on the library door. To her answer the maid announced that a young man wished to see her.

Glancing at the card the maid had handed her, Janet recognized the lawyer's name.

"Very well," said Janet. "Show him in."

"Good evening, Miss H——. I have rather strange news for you," he remarked, as he sat down.

"Proceed," said Janet.

"Well," began the lawyer, "it appears in some valuable papers of Mr. W—— that he did have a married daughter, who, through some family disagreement, had left her father's home. The girl has since died, but her only child, now a young man, still survives, and he has put in a claim for his mother's share of the property. I have come to inform you that this young man to see you tomorrow and we shall decide what further proceedings shall take place."

"Certainly," said Janet. "I shall be very glad to give up that which belongs to another."

After he left she sighed gently. She wondered if she would now have to face the cold world again. She had, however, managed to save a neat sum; thus she would not be utterly penniless and after a short rest she would start out once more.

The next morning found the lawyer and Mr. W——'s grandson on their way to the mansion. As the young man entered his eyes opened in wonderment, as did Janet's, at the antiquities, etc.

"Say," he gasped. "This is something worth while looking for."

They had finally reached the library and had been seated but a few minutes when Janet entered.

"Janet! Miss H——! I never thought, never imagined I should see you!"

"And you, Ralph B——, are Mr. W——'s grandson?"

"So it seems," said Ralph. "I am so glad, so glad!" cried Janet. "Did I not mention Miss H——'s name?" the lawyer questioned. "I must have been unusually stupid."

Ralph did not answer. He still held Janet's hand, and at length the lawyer so far recovered his wits as to quit the room.

When he next saw the two no mention was made of Janet's desire to relinquish the estate, and the lawyer put forth a tentative query.

"Settlement?"

"Oh, yes, we have arrived at a settlement," Ralph said, with a joyous laugh, "since Janet has consented to marry me."

Writer's Cramp.

Writer's cramp does not interfere with other manipulations of the affected hand. A prominent surgeon now totally unable to write uses the affected hand easily to perform all the delicate and varied manipulations incident to abdominal surgery.

Complete rest of the hand, massage and electrical treatment may afford relief, but the trouble is likely to recur. Some victims learn to write with the left hand, but the disease is prone to extend into the newly trained member.

The method of writing from the elbow or shoulder instead of from the knuckle prevents writer's cramp. Affected persons can use the typewriting machine perfectly.

AN IMPORTANT FACTOR IN CUTTING SHOE EXPENSE

"Many months of comfort at little expense" is the way Charles A. Pearson of San Diego, California, sums up his experience with Neolin Soles. Mr. Pearson had two pairs of shoes resoled with Neolin Soles, and after wearing them for twenty months writes "I will have to get new shoes sometime, but so far as the soles are concerned, that time seems as far distant as when they were new."

This is typical of the experience millions are having with Neolin Soles. Created by Science to be durable, flexible and waterproof, these soles are an important factor in cutting shoe expense. You can get them on new shoes for the whole family, and for re-soled. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels—guaranteed to outwear all other heels.

Ralph met with only cold glances from Mr. and Mrs. H—— when he encountered them. Gradually his visits ceased, and before the collapse of Mr. H——'s business the young man had gone, no one knew where or whither; few cared.

Neither Mr. H—— or his wife long survived their change in fortune. The former had invested all the money he could raise in a new, and as it turned out, bogus company. Thus Janet was entirely unprovided for.

She entered the Mayton hospital, from which she later graduated as a private nurse.

Her first case was with Norman W——, an old man of very comfortable means. Here she remained as his nurse and faithful servant until death called him.

His entire property was bequeathed to her at his death. The antiques and curious old statuary of the mansion held a strange charm for her.

About a week after Mr. W——'s death she was sitting in the library reading when the sound of an auto brushing the curb came to her ears. Laying aside the book, she arose from her chair and started to walk toward the window, but was interrupted by a knock on the library door. To her answer the maid announced that a young man wished to see her.

Glancing at the card the maid had handed her, Janet recognized the lawyer's name.

"Very well," said Janet. "Show him in."

"Good evening, Miss H——. I have rather strange news for you," he remarked, as he sat down.

"Proceed," said Janet.

"Well," began the lawyer, "it appears in some valuable papers of Mr. W—— that he did have a married daughter, who, through some family disagreement, had left her father's home. The girl has since died, but her only child, now a young man, still survives, and he has put in a claim for his mother's share of the property. I have come to inform you that this young man to see you tomorrow and we shall decide what further proceedings shall take place."

"Certainly," said Janet. "I shall be very glad to give up that which belongs to another."

After he left she sighed gently. She wondered if she would now have to face the cold world again. She had, however, managed to save a neat sum; thus she would not be utterly penniless and after a short rest she would start out once more.

The next morning found the lawyer and Mr. W——'s grandson on their way to the mansion. As the young man entered his eyes opened in wonderment, as did Janet's, at the antiquities, etc.

"Say," he gasped. "This is something worth while looking for."

They had finally reached the library and had been seated but a few minutes when Janet entered.

"Janet! Miss H——! I never thought, never imagined I should see you!"

"And you, Ralph B——, are Mr. W——'s grandson?"

"So it seems," said Ralph. "I am so glad, so glad!" cried Janet. "Did I not mention Miss H——'s name?" the lawyer questioned. "I must have been unusually stupid."

OIL CITIES ROAD MARKED

NEXT MEETING OF GOOD ROADS
ASSOCIATION WILL BE HELD
MARCH 4.

Owing to weather conditions, a full meeting of the directors-elect of the Pontotoc County Good Roads Association did not materialize Saturday afternoon, but those from Francis and a number of citizens of that place arrived and met with the others present and took out memberships in the organization.

Another meeting of the directors has been called for Tuesday, March 4, at 1 p.m., and the public is general invited to attend. At this meeting the organization will be perfected and made permanent. It is expected to have some prominent speakers for the occasion who will discuss various kinds of good roads.

The organization will take no part in any movement for or against any proposed bond issue, but will devote itself to the work in hand.

At present the Oil Cities highway has the teetot of the organization.

Markers have been made and most of them already placed at intervals along the route.

The route through Pontotoc county officially designated by the county commissioners starts at the bridge north of Francis, into Francis and thence to Ada. From here to Fitzhugh and then to Roff and out to southern part of the county to Hickory. The city officials of each town have designated the route through their city. The road comes into Ada from the north at North Mississippi to Main, west to Townsend, south to 18th street and thence out to the cement plant. Each representative was given enough markers to mark the route out of Ada and in his locality. The city of Ada has already been marked.

C. W. Hardage has just returned from a trip to the Burkhardt and Ranger oil fields. Although they are producing large quantities at this time, he says he has more faith in Pontotoc county than in those fields.

He states that the formations indicate short lived wells there, while those here are on the Pennsylvania order indicating a long life when the pool is finally located.

The driver was only slightly hurt, but the others were knocked unconscious, and at first the horrified crowd at the station thought they were dead, but on being taken to the hospital and examined it was found that their injuries were not serious.

All were hurt about the head, and Uhl Nesbitt suffered a broken jaw and Manson Hawkins a broken collar bone. After being given attention the boys were able to be taken home.

NARROW ESCAPE FOR FOUR BOYS

KATY PASSENGER TRAIN RUNS INTO AND WRECKS AUTO AT MAIN STREET CROSSING

The north bound Katy passenger train struck an auto at the Main Street crossing Saturday afternoon, wrecking the car and injuring the four occupants, Manson Hawkins, Harley Brown, Uhl and Louis Nesbitt. The last named was driving and the car was headed east. Bystanders state that the engine pilot struck the rear of the car as it crossed the track and dragged it several feet before overturning it on the east side of the track.

FERGUSON-CRAGIN.

Mr. George Ferguson and Miss Anna Cragin were married Saturday at 11 a. m. at Henryetta, Rev. Father Cauldron performing the ceremony. They went from there to Dallas and will make their home at Seymour, Texas.

Mrs. Ferguson is the daughter of J. Cragin and wife and spent most of her life in Ada. For a number of years she was employed at the central telephone office. She is a young lady of refinement and a lovable disposition who is a prime favorite of all of her very large circle of friends.

Mr. Ferguson is also well and favorably known here, having been for some time in the employ of the MacThwaite Oil and Gas Co. He is to be congratulated on his success in winning the heart and hand of so estimable a young lady.

WEWOKA TAKES BOTH GAMES FROM ADA

Ada High School was defeated in both the girls and boys basketball games Saturday evening. The score for the boys' game was 15-27 in favor of Weewoka; and the girls' game resulted in a score of 27-15 in favor of the Weewoka girls. The Ada girls were crippled on account of one of their best players, Gladys Gilstrap, being out of the game. Both games were clean and fast ones, when it came to team work the local boys and girls had it over the visitors.

Why Delay?

"Take this medicine," said the young doctor. "If it doesn't cure you, come back in a few days and I shall give you something that will." The patient pocketed the dope reluctantly. In a few moments he returned. "If you don't mind, doc, I'll take some of that will cure me right away."

Sponges Strangely Colored.

Five scarlet sponges have been picked up in Lake Biwa, Japan. The authorities of the lake laboratory at Otsu, attached to the Kyoto Imperial university, are quoted as saying that similar sponges have never been discovered anywhere in the world.

NICKED TWICE IN THE SAME PLACE

North Dakota Man Goes Looking for Pickpocket and Finds Him.

Minneapolis.—Charles Homerberg is out of luck. Homerberg, a farmer living near Oakes, N. D., came to Minneapolis recently with a fixed determination to find the pickpocket who had robbed him of $140 on a previous visit. Mr. Homerberg met the thief in the same saloon where the previous "picking" had taken place, and, according to the story he afterward told the police, the pickpocket robbed him again. His latest loss, he said, totaled $1,100, consisting of $200 in cash and a draft for $900 on an Oakes bank.

Homerberg told the police of engaging the thief in conversation while awaiting an opportunity to remove his pocketbook. The man suddenly left

The Real "Butterfly."

The name for the butterfly did not originate from "flutter," but from low German and Hollandish. Over in Holland there is a butterfly that lives whenever possible on butter and milk. He is and always has been a nuisance to the Dutch wives and has always been called the "butterfleeg," or butterfly.
